

The Culture C.O.-O.P. presents:

Untold Stories

From our Ancestors and Elders

Join us for a virtual presentation and learn the importance of keeping the voices of our Ancestors and Elders alive through story. Listen to our honored guest, Amanda Eke, as she goes back and retraces (sankofa) a legacy lost to time.

On Zoom

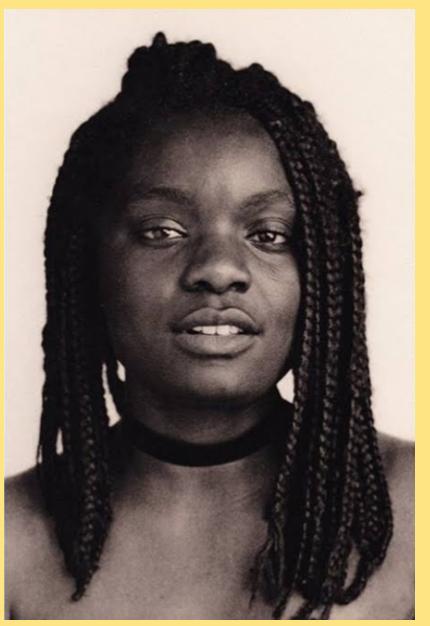

Thursday | January 25, 2024

@6:00 – 7:15 PM | Pacific Standard Time

Scan or click QR code to register

Stories from our Ancestors and Elders, who are caretakers of our history, help us understand our present and shape our futures. When we record, listen and take those narratives into our hearts, we can't help but be transformed and more informed when it comes to making an impact in our world. There are countless stories to be told and we encourage you to engage with us an honored guest, Amanda Eke, guides us through one sacred sharing and what this legacy means for the past, present and future

Join us for an example of one of these stories with honored guest:

Amanda Eke

Amanda Eke is an Award winning Nigerian American Artist, Broadcast Journalist/Anchor, Spoken Word Poet, Film-Maker, and Educator. She has won numerous awards including a Fulbright Fellowship for her scholarship and a UN (United Nations) Award for her artistry work. To learn more about her work contact The Culture C.O.-O.P.

info@CultureCo-op.com
Phone: (530) 792-1334
www.cultureco-op.com

